

Best SS teachers

Best SS teachers anywhere for HE deserves the best

I believe Sunday School in many churches is just a necessary nuisance. Very few pastors and churches really try to make the most of this hour. In light of this painful truth we have added a class to our Bible institute with the goal of producing the finest SS teachers anywhere. We are training all (young and old, female and male) to be proficient in giving object lessons, using flannel graph and even short drama. It is very interesting to watch the interest-gauge rise in our SS teaching staff as they look forward to their hour on Sunday morning. Nearly too much excitement happened Sunday morn when my partner Pastor James was teaching on the whole armour of God and had designed a drama of a thief breaking into the morning service to steal purses and anything of value. The pretend thief was covered like a terrorist and had a knife and ran quickly among the folk grabbing purses and causing terror. It was all choreographed except no one was forewarned and it could have gone South. Several men rose to their feet and were considering their gallant duty, when it ended with an attempted attack on Pastor James who defended himself with a literal shield of faith...Whew...I told the terrorist, an IBMP grad, that if that had happened in USA he would have five holes in him...and if in Texas make that eight...ha.

While I was sleeping

Who knows what goes on while they are sleeping? I don't really care till I awake. Well a couple of interesting things happened while I slept the night of February 11-12. I was stunned when I awoke and found myself to be another year older...yep...74. This was shocker enough, but then I was called to another location on the property to view what else had happened. It seemed this dinosaur had wandered onto the property and one of our Great-Brown-Hunters caught it and plans to butcher and barbeque it. We will save you all a bite.

High School back on track

When this school year began we had the entire 9th grade all to ourselves...six classes of 60-70 students and a full hour with them. We were able to use our Bible institute students and grads in ministering. THEN, a new principal came and ruined it all. We prayed and God replaced that principal with another NEW principal and it all just got changed back...PTL. All the "youth directors" can just eat their hearts out over this, but we have nearly 500 ninth graders to minister to for an entire hour each week and they do not have the countenance that they are just enduring to the end. They actually LOOOOOOOVE it.

God give us the Air Force

Just a mile, as the Air Force jet flies, away from our compound the Philippine Air Force is remodeling the old city airport and putting in an AF base. They are building structures to house nearly 1500 personnel. Please pray with us, "God give us the Air Force." I am trying to make the right contacts to either hold services on the base, which I would prefer, or transport any and all who will come to our property. This would be a most wonderful and profitable (soul-wise) ministry for us.

Christian School Choir

One of our grads is working with us in our Christian school and he also has assembled a children's choir. The students get to sing in church from time to time and invite their parents to come and enjoy their performance. It is amazing how many of the parents have been saved through their association with our school and have found the joy of a Bible believing church.

The faithful witness

The publick ministry ballad I attached last month can easily be converted into a script for a four-scene drama. We are rehearsing to present this when our friends and guests come next Wednesday, Feb. 20. We hope Pastor James Knox and his entourage thoroughly enjoy it.
